Musical Diary

I haven't found much time to practise my violin or electric guitar recently, so there aren't any new updates and the photo ahem looks a bit outdated.

My iPhone is still set to the RC Cars ringtone, though. If you hear it anywhere around you it's probably me.

3-D Photography

The photos below are stereographs for cross-eyed viewing.

- click on a thumbnail to load the full-resolution image (start with "3D Practice" below)
- view the image in full-screen mode, or scale it to the largest possible size
- cross your eyes so that your right eye sees the left-hand part of the image and your left eye sees the right-hand part of the image.
- adjust the angle of your eyes until the two halves of the image are aligned and swim into focus
- if you have difficulty in bringing the two halves together, try tilting your head slightly to the left and to the right
